A mixed media and sculpture artist, Anne returned to a focus on her art work after moving to Texas in 2005. Influenced by her Czechoslovakian heritage and her prior career in the life sciences, she favors organic and geometric designs. Finding texture visually exciting, she enjoys incorporating different materials in her works, especially natural stones or other objects.

Anne creates original art for practically any setting, indoor or outside. Her works include 3D sculpture and mosaics, including wall hangings, functional furniture, home décor items, outdoor sculpture and other decor, and swimming pool/spa decorative art. She has art available for purchase or can create a unique piece to meet a customer's design criteria.

"I grew up on a small quarter horse ranch in Tulsa, Oklahoma with a full-fledged cowboy Daddy. Much of my childhood was spent sketchbook in hand, in the front seat of a '54 chevy pickup truck at the closest calf roping.

Through the windshield of that old truck, I developed a love for the lay of the land, art, and animals. My first art instructor's payment was Nocona cowboy boots, in trade from Dick Bardons, our family-owned sporting goods store.

I remember that child and the discipline of my formal art education. My goal as a professional artist is that my art will bring enjoyment to the viewer and hold its value."

Ed developed a passion for photography at age 12. He played with a 4" x 5" Speed Graphic camera and developed his work in his childhood home darkroom. Ed says, "The first time I saw that print come to life in the developer, I was hooked." Over the years, Ed has won several Austin Professional Photographers Association awards and in June won the grand prize at the Texas School of Photography shootout against hundreds of Texas photographers. In addition to family and wedding photographs, Ed is well known for his distinctive photographs. To obtain price information for his work contact him at (512) 986-5519.
